2020 Phase- out of R22 Refrigerant Affects YOU.

Most older HVAC systems installed before 2012 have R22 refrigerant which is being phased out by 2020 according to the EPA. If you had to have your AC refilled this summer, this affects you significantly and deserves your immediate attention. Click here to learn more about your options.

Stay Safe From Carbon Monoxide

Each year in the U.S. alone, an average of 170 people die from carbon monoxide poisoning. Many more are exposed to this colorless, odorless gas and experience symptoms which can leave permanent damage. Many household appliances including your heating system can produce carbon monoxide. But carbon monoxide poisoning is 100% preventable. Read more...
